EISENHOWER ACCEPTS CROSS RESIGNATION

Thanksgiving Holiday Traffic Deaths Total 144

Safety Council Calls Count a Shocking Figure

Fires, Miscellaneous Causes Run Total of Violent Deaths to 177

By United Press
Thanksgiving Day, a holiday not ordinarily marred by a high traffic death rate, resulted in a "shocking" number of fatalities, a compilation showed today.

The United Press counted 144 traffic deaths across the country between 6 p. m. Wednesday and midnight Thursday.

Heretofore Thanksgiving Day has been more like an ordinary Thursday so far as traffic fatalities were concerned, according to the National Safety Council. The council makes no prediction on the number of traffic fatalities expected during Thanksgiving.

However, a council compilation for Thursday, Dec. 2, 1954, made in the interest of the first Safe-Driving Day, showed 81 deaths in the United States. This includes delayed deaths.

A council spokesman informed of the United Press count said it was a "shocking figure."

Fires killed 11 persons and miscellaneous accidents 22 Thursday for a total of 177 violent deaths during the holiday.

In Michigan, which led all states with 20 traffic deaths, five persons died in one two-car crash and four in another. In Mesquite, Tex., a 15-year-old boy was killed when a piano he was helping to move fell on him.

President Eisenhower set the theme for the nation's observance. He spent a quiet day at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home, concentrating on his three grand-children. He carved a 40-pound turkey.

Turkey for Servicemen
U. S. troops around the world may not have had the children, but they had the food. Turkey with all the trimmings was the menu.

In Korea, some 50,000 GIs spent a happy if homesick day just outside the Bamboo Curtain. Only a handful of troops had to eat in the bunkers.

President Syngman Rhee of Korea told U. S. servicemen "the people of Korea thank you for your sacrifices."

At Columbus, Miss., V. F. King, had something special to be thankful for—his life. Police said King was "sitting on the tracks" when bumped off a freight train. He was not hurt seriously.

Firemen at Engine Co. 120 at Chicago also had food trouble. While answering an alarm, they discovered someone had stolen most of their holiday turkey.

At Anderson, Ind., the Ridley Carmacks gave thanks that their 50-year-old "lovers' spat" was over. The couple was married Wednesday.

The Benjamin Hartleys, both 96, celebrated their 80th wedding anniversary at Sagle, Idaho. They are believed to be the nation's longest-married couple.

City Police Car, Carrier Mills Auto Damaged in Collision

The city police car and a Carrier Mills auto were damaged exclusively in a collision on Route 45 at 5:15 p. m. yesterday.

The police car was driven by Patrolman Pat Atkinson, the other machine by Robert Fort, 25, of Carrier Mills.

The accident report said that the crash occurred when Atkinson started around Fort and Fort made a left turn at the Ellis Trucking Co. terminal.

Police said Fort had damaged his own car and was driving a borrowed one when the crash occurred.

Two American Soldiers Convicted of Robbery By Japanese Court

TOKYO (UP)—A Japanese court today sentenced one American soldier to five years in prison and another to from 3½ to five years on charges of robbing and injuring a taxi driver.

The Urawa district court near Tokyo tried the two Americans on charges of assaulting and robbing a Japanese cab driver Aug. 21.

A U. S. Army spokesman said that the men, both members of the 512th Field Artillery Battalion, pleaded guilty to the assault and battery charges.

AREA TEACHERS ATTENDING a history workshop at Southern Illinois university recently included: William Morris, left, Norris City; Louis Aaron, Eldorado; Harold E. Briggs, chairman of the SIU history department; Charles H. Coieman, Charleston, principal workshop speaker and professor of social science at Eastern Illinois State College; Walter Collins, West Frankfort; and John W. Allen, SIU local historian and workshop luncheon speaker.

Democrats Ask Prosecutions in Dixon-Yates Case; Rule Pact Invalid

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democrats today kept alive the Dixon-Yates issue by demanding prosecutions in the controversy and promising additional investigations.

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler demanded that the administration prosecute officials responsible for what he called the "now-admitted wrongdoing" involved in the abandoned power contract.

Butler said the Dixon-Yates matter would provide a "real test of Republican promises to deal vigorously with any misconduct in government."

His statement was prompted by the Atomic Energy Commission's announcement Wednesday night that it considers the contract invalid. The AEC said there was a possible violation of the conflict of interest law in negotiating the contract and that it would pay no cancellation costs on it unless ordered to do so by a court.

Kefauver Pledges Probe
Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of a Senate subcommittee investigating the Dixon-Yates matter, said that the AEC's action is "not the end of the fight."

He said his group will "continue our investigation of the connection between the Eisenhower administration and the private power lobbies."

The AEC said the possible violation involved the activities of Adolph H. Wenzel, New York investment banker who acted both as consultant to the government and as an official of the firm which handled Dixon-Yates financial arrangements.

Butler said that in view of the AEC's finding the administration should explain why President Eisenhower and Budget Director Rowland Hughes said they regarded Wenzel's role in the contract negotiations as proper.

Butler Hails Opposition
Butler said "the two-year fight of the Democrats to stop the Dixon-Yates deal is a splendid example of how a vigilant opposition can serve the public interest."

"Blocking the deal saved the taxpayers more than 100 million dollars in excess power costs, and now there should be another four million or five million dollars saving of cancellation fees because of the investigation which uncovered the conflict of interest violations."

Under the Dixon-Yates contract, the private power combine was to have built a power plant at West Memphis, Ark., and to have supplied power to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA power furnished AEC installations elsewhere.

The project was dropped when the city of Memphis, Tenn., which was to have received much of the Dixon-Yates power, said it would refuse to accept the private power and would build its own municipal power plant to serve its growing needs.

The petition contained the legal description of the area to be affected and asked the court to grant the petition and enter an order fixing the time and place for holding the election and appointing the judges and clerks.

Judge Trafton Dennis, acting on the petition, found it valid and granted the petition, which said that the area to be voted on has at least 100 inhabitants.

He entered an order setting the election date to be Dec. 12, the polling place to be the Venice club on the west side of U. S. Route 45 at Muddy.

The proposition to be voted on is "Shall the Territory Described Be Incorporated As a Village under the General Law?"

Appointed judges were John Molinarolo, Zeta Pesavento and Rita Bolatto. Clerks named were Dorothy Hathaway, Evelyn Upchurch and John Pesavento.

The children, who were unattended, were getting ready for bed when the fire broke out.

Saved by the young hero were Dethies Bradley, 2 months, who was carried out; Dennis, 15 months; Rodney, 3; Kennard, 4; Vernon, 5; and Regina, 6.

Dennis' twin sister, Denise, was burned to death.

Police said the children's mother, Pearl, 26, was visiting a sick friend at St. James' hospital. The father, Joseph, 31, had taken the family to a movie earlier, then returned upstairs to bed. He then left home, police said.

Ten other persons were routed from the two-story frame building. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Eisenhower to Return to White House Dec. 20

Will Remain There Until Congress Launched on Program

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower will return to the White House about Dec. 20 and remain there—except for some weekend trips—until Congress is well launched on its 1956 program, it was learned today.

The President, gradually rebuilding his health and his strength, plans to stay in Washington from late December until about mid-April, White House sources disclosed.

According to Mr. Eisenhower's current plans, he will make weekend visits to his farm home here. He also may make a number of flying visits to "The Little White House" at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Course.

But his staff members expect him to make the White House in Washington his headquarters, and center of operations until at least April 10. His plans after that were not disclosed.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty has announced that Mr. Eisenhower will spend Christmas at the White House with his family.

By operating from the White House until mid-April, Mr. Eisenhower is expected to take a personal hand in the start of the Republican legislative program in the crucial election year. This program is now under study by administration leaders.

In the days ahead the President will be taking on his busiest schedule since he suffered a heart attack on Sept. 24.

Next Monday he will hold a political conference with GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall. Then in days following, he will meet with both GOP and Democratic congressional leaders and undergo two medical checks.

The funeral service will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. and the body will lie in state at the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills one hour before the service begins.

Mr. Thorne was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Thorne of Carrier Mills. His wife is the former Ora Gibbons of Harrisburg and their two children who attended school in Harrisburg are very well known here. Jack, the son, lives in Biloxi, Miss., and the daughter, June, wife of Richard Hunt, lives in Mt. Vernon. There are three grandchildren.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Carl (Bertha) Harris, and Mrs. John R. (Minnie) Harris, Carrier Mills.

Mrs. Thorne was a member of the Amoma class of the First Baptist church when they lived here and the members of that class will serve as flower girls. The Rev. Otho Williams, Mt. Vernon, Baptist minister, will conduct the funeral service. Burial will be at the Salem cemetery and the following will serve as pallbearers: John Noonan, Life Kirts, Harry Fife, John Austin, F. P. Pankey and Carl Vance.

Adm. Byrd Leaves for Fifth Antarctic Expedition; Sees Permanent Settlement

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd on his fifth Antarctic expedition—a venture he believes will foreshadow the first permanent settlement on the icy continent.

The famous explorer predicted at a news conference on the eve of his departure that Antarctica will become a land of permanent citizens, mostly civilians, living in villages of perhaps 500 persons when the present exploration ends in 1959.

"Eventually, this is the beginning of the opening of a great continent that is going to be of great value to generations to come and to the peace-loving peoples of the world," he said.

Byrd leaves with his chief of staff, Capt. Laurence Matthews, on the first lap of a journey to Antarctica. The two are due at Auckland, New Zealand, Nov. 30.

In New Zealand Byrd and Matthews will join seven U. S. ships and 15 airplanes for the remainder of the trip to the Antarctic area.

Byrd told newsmen that his unusual Thanksgiving Day news conference that Antarctica—a continent larger than the U. S. and Europe combined—holds perhaps the world's richest store of untapped natural resources.

may also be found there. Byrd suggested anew that the world could serve as a "deep freeze" for agricultural surpluses and hinted it might become a haven for bachelors.

"Women have never set foot on the place we call Little America (base of previous expeditions), and we have found it to be the most peaceful and silent place in the world," he quipped.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
General Motors Vs. Ford Feud
Disrupts Republican High Command; Ford Backs Eisenhower While GM Wants Conservative GOP Candidate; Summerfield and Hall Split By Battle Of Motor Moguls.

WASHINGTON. — A backstage political struggle between the two auto titans, General Motors and Ford, has the Republican high command snapping and snarling at each other. It could cause bitter recriminations.

Here is a three-ring view of the intra-party battle:

Ring 1 — Henry Ford II vs. General Motors Boss Harlow Curtice.
Ford is a sincere and devoted Ikeliker, hopes to keep the Eisenhower wing in power. Curtice backed the late Sen. Bob Taft, trudgingly went along with Ike until his heart attack. Now Curtice and his GM executives are moving mightily to put a conservative in the White House.

They have gone so far as to shut off GM contributions to the GOP as long as Eisenhower men run the Republican party in Michigan.
Ring 2 — Present GOP National Chairman Len Hall vs. postmaster general, and one of the biggest Chevrolet dealers in the USA. Summerfield is in the unique position of serving in the Eisenhower cabinet, but siding with General Motors against the Eisenhower political team. He has boasted in GOP circles that he is still "de facto national chairman," that Hall is a figurehead and "not very bright." In turn, Hall has called Summerfield a "great money-raiser but a lousy politician."

The feud has now reached such a point that Hall has recommended to the White House that Summerfield be fired from the cabinet.

Ring 3 — Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson vs. the man who succeeded him as GM president, Harlow Curtice. Wilson is stanch-ly loyal to the Eisenhower team, but has absolutely no influence over GM's political activity. Curtice, who heaved a big sigh when Charles left GM, has housecleaned General Motors of all Wilson influence and policies.

During the Army - McCarthy showdown, for example, GM Vice President Harry Anderson wrote a blistering letter to Wilson because the secretary of defense was against McCarthy. This was done with Curtice's blessing.

To these might be added a fourth, junior ring—Wilson's son, Ed, vs. Summerfield's son, Bud.

Young Wilson has joined forces with the Eisenhower leaders now running the Republican party in Michigan. Young Summerfield has taken up the cudgels against the Ike forces.

WASHINGTON HUDDLE

Last week the battle of the motoguls was so bitter that Chairman Hall made a last, desperate effort to clamp the lid on the tempest. He called Summerfield and Michigan GOP Chairman
John Feikens to the Republican National committee for truce talks.

At this meeting Feikens angrily accused General Motors of staging a "sit-down strike" against Eisenhower leaders and closing the GM treasury to Republican leaders in Michigan. He charged that Summerfield not only had sided with GM, but had actually influenced GM officials to stop their contributions. This raised the ire of the postmaster general. Heatedly he shot back that Feikens was nothing but a Ford "stooge."

After the two men cooled down, Hall got them to agree to a political truce. Feikens promised to add General Motors friends to the Michigan state campaign committee. Summerfield, in turn, agreed to use his influence to bring General Motors back into the Republican money fold.

The peace, however, turned out to be only temporary. The very next day, word got back to the National committee that Summerfield was castigating both Hall and Fei-kens with the same old fervor.

Meanwhile in Michigan, the GM faction was insisting on running ex-Congressman Kit Clardy, an out-and-out McCarthyite, for the House seat he lost last year. The Ford faction considers Clardy too pro-McCarthy, an opinion shared by the White House.

BEHIND THE BICKERING

The GM-Ford political rift goes back to the 1952 Republican convention when the General Motors group campaigned for Taft and the Ford organization backed Eisenhower. Wilson, then GM prexy, personally stayed on the fence.
Summerfield, however, organized the Michigan delegation into a neutral bloc, which he was ready to bargain away to the highest political bidder.

The deadlock was finally broken

when the Eisenhower forces made a deal to name Summerfield National Republican chairman if he would swing Michigan to Ike. This column reported the deal on the eve of the convention, a week before the Summerfield appointment was announced.

Ford leaders, however, were bitterly opposed to Summerfield's appointment. They didn't want him either as GOP National chairman or as a member of the Eisenhower cabinet, on the grounds that he was tied up with the General Motors right wing crowd.
Summerfield promised, however, that he would divorce himself from intra-party politics and concentrate on running the post office.

However, he continued to pull political strings through his son, Bud, who remained in Michigan, and through his GM friends. Bud, with GM backing, led the fight to overthrow Feikens as state chairman and install a GM protégé, Arthur Iverson. But Ford intervened. He threw his resources behind Feikens and won the showdown.

This led to the GM financial boycott which exploded into open hostility against the Eisenhower wing of the party shortly after the President's heart attack. GM Vice President Steve Du Brule, political legman for Curtice, has been working with the so-called Taft wing to take the GOP presidential nomination away from the Ike forces. Another GM vice president, Harry Anderson, is playing footsie with the McCarthyites.

On the other side, Henry Ford II is vigorously supporting the liberal or Eisenhower wing of the party. In return, he has asked for no political favors in Washington.
His enthusiasm for Ike borders on idolization.

The political pot, meanwhile, is boiling. GOP leaders are waiting fearfully for it to erupt like a geyser.

Rister Re-Elected To State Board

Alfred Rister, Omaha, was re-elected to the State Farm Bureau Board of Directors, at the annual meeting of the organization held in Chicago last week. Mr. Rister is starting his fourth two-year term on the board.

He will be one of fourteen Illinois delegates to the national convention of Farm Bureaus to be held in Chicago Dec. 12-15.

"Do Not Judge From Mere Appearances"

The average cost of a prescription is just about the charge for a good meal. This is a tribute to the pharmaceutical industry that spends millions on research yet keeps ultimate costs so low.

Some medicines appear to be expensive. Judging by appearances a dozen capsules may not seem to be worth as much as six dollars. Your physician knows their higher cost and true value. When he prescribes them for you he knows that your eventual cost will be much lower because they will do you more good in less time. Trust his judgment. We will cooperate by pricing them fairly.

Love Triangle Blamed as Wife Kills Mate

LOS ANGELES — A love triangle involving "another woman" was blamed today for provoking a 39-year-old wife to fire a bullet into her sleeping husband's head after kneeling at his bedside and praying for an hour.

Mrs. Nina Sorenson, who had vowed never to let her husband go, was booked on suspicion of murder. Police said she admitted fatally shooting her husband, William, 39, in the temple Thursday as he slept in their apartment.

The "other woman" was identified by police as Mrs. Billie Muno, a divorcee and mother of two. After Sorenson was slain, she sobbed, "Oh, bring Bill back, dear God... I loved him so!"

"I met Mrs. Sorenson about last March," Mrs. Muno said. "She told me she would never let him go... she thought Bill was just playing around."

Mrs. Sorenson told police her husband went to bed early after they had argued. "After a while I got to thinking about our troubles until I couldn't stand it any longer—we'd been having our trouble for six or seven months because of another woman. I went into the bedroom and knelt beside him as he slept."

She then got a .25 caliber pistol from a dresser drawer, she said. "I knelt beside the bed again and prayed—then I put the gun close to his head and pulled the trigger... It was Thanksgiving... Everything's a big mess now... I don't know how I could have done it!"

Delta Alpha Chapter Has Childhood Party At John Humm Home

The lovely home of Mrs. John Humm was the setting for a most delightful party for Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority Monday evening.

The members, dressed as their favorite childhood characters, were greeted by Mrs. Humm and Mrs. Andy Anderson, the assistant hostess, who escorted the group to the living room which was decorated with beautiful pink camellias and white spider mums in crystal compotes.

A style show was held to determine the most cleverly dressed and the prettiest. Candles resembling small pilgrim children were given as prizes to Mrs. John Foster and Mrs. John Slightom who were cleverly dressed as Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn and to Mrs. Richard Jelliffe who was very pretty as Little Bo Peep.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing childhood games, pin the tail on the donkey, performing stunts and bingo. Several of those present were recipients of amusing prizes such as comic books, jacks, balls and modeling clay.

A homemade angel food cake decorated with handmade jeweled flowers and encircled with gum drops on an antique cake plate provided an appropriate centerpiece for the serving table that was covered with a polka dotted cloth and napkins. Gaily colored circus balloons hanging overhead in the candlelight room completed the scene for the typical childhood party.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, individual cup cakes that were miniature replicas of the centerpiece, ice cream and coffee were served.

Apothecary jars filled with assorted candies which were also a part of the decoration theme earlier were given to the especially invited guests, Mrs. Louis Murphy, Mrs. Bob Favreau and Mrs. Don Roberts.

Others present were Mrs. Nelson Pankey, Mrs. Jim Sullivan, Mrs. Bob Rushing, Mrs. Morris Skaggs, Mrs. John Slightom, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. Richard Jelliffe, Mrs. Jewel Dean, Barter, Mrs. Leota Leberman, Miss Barbara Thompson, and Mrs. Humm's mother, Mrs. Alice Kimpler of Sandoval.

White House Conference On Education to Discuss Pressing School Problems

WASHINGTON — The White House Conference on Education comes to grips next week with one of the nation's most pressing problems: What can be done to improve our schools?

Discussions by some 2,000 delegates to the conference will culminate the greatest mass look in history at the nation's educational system. Well over half a million citizens have tackled the same subject at a series of state and local conferences in the past year.

School systems need help. The nation is short 250,000 classrooms and 141,300 qualified teachers this year. Unless something is done the situation will get worse as millions more children flock to school in the next 10 years.

Conference delegates will be asked to make specific recommendations to solve the schools' problems and to include their views on the touchy subject of federal aid to education.

The conference comes at a time

Bull Dogs Play
Carmi Saturday
In Davenport Gym

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs meet the Bull Dogs of Carmi at Davenport gym tomorrow night in the season basketball opener for both teams. It is a non-conference tilt.

Carmi Coach John McDougal has three lettermen back from his team of last year, but a reserve squad which won 16 out of 19 games is back intact and a lot of good material is expected from this group.

Lettermen are Ronnie Winter, Kenneth Brashier and Leon Myers. Winter is 5-11, Brashier 5-11 1/2 and Myers 6-2. Other boys fighting for a berth on the varsity team are Mickey McCombs, 6-1, Shelby Hankins, 6-2 1/2, and Larry Bell, 6-1, a transfer student from Kentucky.

Other games in southern Illinois this week-end include:
Friday: Centralia at Sparta, Carterville at Herrin, Fairfield at Mt. Vernon, Sesser at Waltonville, Golconda at Galatia, Grayville at Shawneetown.

Saturday: Eldorado at Benton, Carbondale at Zeigler, Johnston City at Christopher.

Navy is 7-Point Favorite
Over Army; Notre Dame
10 Over Southern California

By United Press
Navy, Notre Dame, Texas Christian, and Mississippi will be the favorites in the biggest games Saturday when the 1955 college football season comes to an end in a blaze of traditional glory and conference championships.

Navy and Army both were slated to move to Philadelphia today to get set for their 56th annual service gridiron classic there Saturday, and the last word was that the Middies remain favored by seven points.

In another game, Notre Dame, the nation's highest-ranked independent team will be the choice by 10 points to gain its ninth win in 10 starts at the expense of Southern California.

Texas Christian, the host team for the Cotton Bowl game, is a 14-point favorite over Southern Methodist. TCU now can clinch the Southwest Conference championship by winning this one, thanks to a stunning 21-6 upset handed Texas A & M by Texas Thursday.

The Aggies went into that tussle a 13-point pick, needing only a victory to gain their first league crown since 1940. And they scored first when Jim Wright bucked over from the one in the second quarter.

But the Aggies missed the extra point. Aroused Texas scored 10 seconds before halftime on Joe Clements' 25-yard pass, went ahead on Johnny Elam's conversion, then clinched the game on fourth-period touchdowns by Walt Fendren and Ed Hawkins.

Mississippi, like Texas Christian, can clinch a league title—the Southeastern—by making good as a seven-point pick over Mississippi State Saturday. If Ole Miss stumbles, the title could go to Auburn, Georgia Tech, or Vanderbilt, all of them favored in separate games. Out of this group will come the host team for the Sugar Bowl and possibly Texas Christian's Cotton Bowl rival.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, hopes to finish a perfect season Saturday and is the day's most lopsided choice at 35 points over Oklahoma A & M.

Little Miami of Ohio, which has been mentioned as a Gator Bowl possibility, kept those hopes shining brightly Thursday by winding up a perfect season with a 14-0 triumph over Cincinnati.

The holiday also was a happy one for Wichita, which finished in a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference championship by crushing Tulsa, 54-0.

But it was unhappy for Wyoming, beaten 6-3 by Denver in possibly the wildest finish of any football game this year and thus prevented from tying Colorado A & M for the Skyline Conference title.

The score was 0-0 with only 10 seconds left when Joe Mastrogianni, the "Cowboy from Brooklyn," booted a 17-yard field goal to put underdog Wyoming ahead. That looked like the game, but there was still the tiny matter of one kickoff — which Denver ran back for a touchdown on a 78-yard play that saw Max Wilsey lateral to Dick Gupton. Gupton was tackled on the goal line and the signal of a score was held up for 10 minutes because both squads were fighting on the field. Then the crowd was there, too, so they skipped the extra point.

Wyoming Athletic Director Glenn Jacoby said he will protest the game to the conference commissioner on the grounds the referees "didn't see" the play.

In other leading games on Turkey day: Cornell handed Pennsylvania its 18th straight loss, 39-7; Colgate trounced Brown, 25-0; William and Mary held Richmond to a 6-6 tie; Utah nipped Utah State, 14-13; and Virginia Tech downed VMI, 39-13.

West Virginia, Southern Conference champion, is a 13-point choice to bounce back from two straight losses by beating North Carolina State in the only major game on tonight's schedule.

Carrier Mills
Graders Defeat
Broughton, 109-34

The Carrier Mills grade school basketball team rewrote the record book Wednesday night when it defeated Broughton 109-34. The game was played at Carrier Mills and was a benefit for the Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children.

At halftime Carrier Mills held a 35-16 lead, but caught fire to count 74 points in the final two quarters. The winners were paced in point production by Taborn's 57 markers. This broke the former CM grade school mark of 36 points, also made by Taborn.

Carrier Mills now has a record of 11 victories and no defeats and has scored a total of 707 points so far this season. Next game on the CM schedule is at Rosiclare Nov. 30.

Carrier Mills also won over Broughton Wednesday in the preliminary game 43-30.

Scoring in the main game—Carrier Mills: VanHoy 6, Taborn 57, Fitts 9, Shaw 27, Shelton 2, Holmes 6, Overstreet 2; Broughton: Barker 12, Prince 4, Allen 2, Owen 5, Phillips 5.

Lindell Lovellette

Lindell Lovellette, Eldorado footballer, and his coach, Al Adams, will attend a banquet Dec. 3 and take part in other festivities sponsored by the Champaign News-Gazette for members of the all-state football squad as selected by the News-Gazette.

Lovellette, a 215-pound 6-3 senior was named a guard on the 29th annual all-state football squad selected by the News-Gazette. Members of the squad and their coaches are entertained by the newspaper each year.

Lovellette lettered three years with the Eldorado varsity grid squad. As a sophomore he was used exclusively in the line. Last year he was mostly a lineman, but shifted into the backfield occasionally.

During the season just closed Lovellette was regular fullback on offense and played end, tackle and guard on defense.

As long ago as before the start of the 1954 season, Adams stated Lovellette was definitely all-state material. This year he made it.

His athletic activities aren't confined to football as he is center on the basketball team, puts the shot and throws the discus on the track squad. Lovellette also is an honor student.

Don't know just how this will fit into a sports column, except that my chief type of physical exercise is to lift and lower a fork and cut with a knife.

Anyhow, just want to mention a fine Thanksgiving dinner I enjoyed at the Eldorado high school Wednesday at noon. Stopped at the school to talk with Coach Adams and made it just at lunch time. He invited me to eat with him, said "No, but will go down to the cafeteria and talk while you eat." Looked at the food and thought, "Sure hope someone else asks." Well, along came J. Ward Barnes, assistant principal and in charge of the cafeteria, and he invited me to eat. I did.

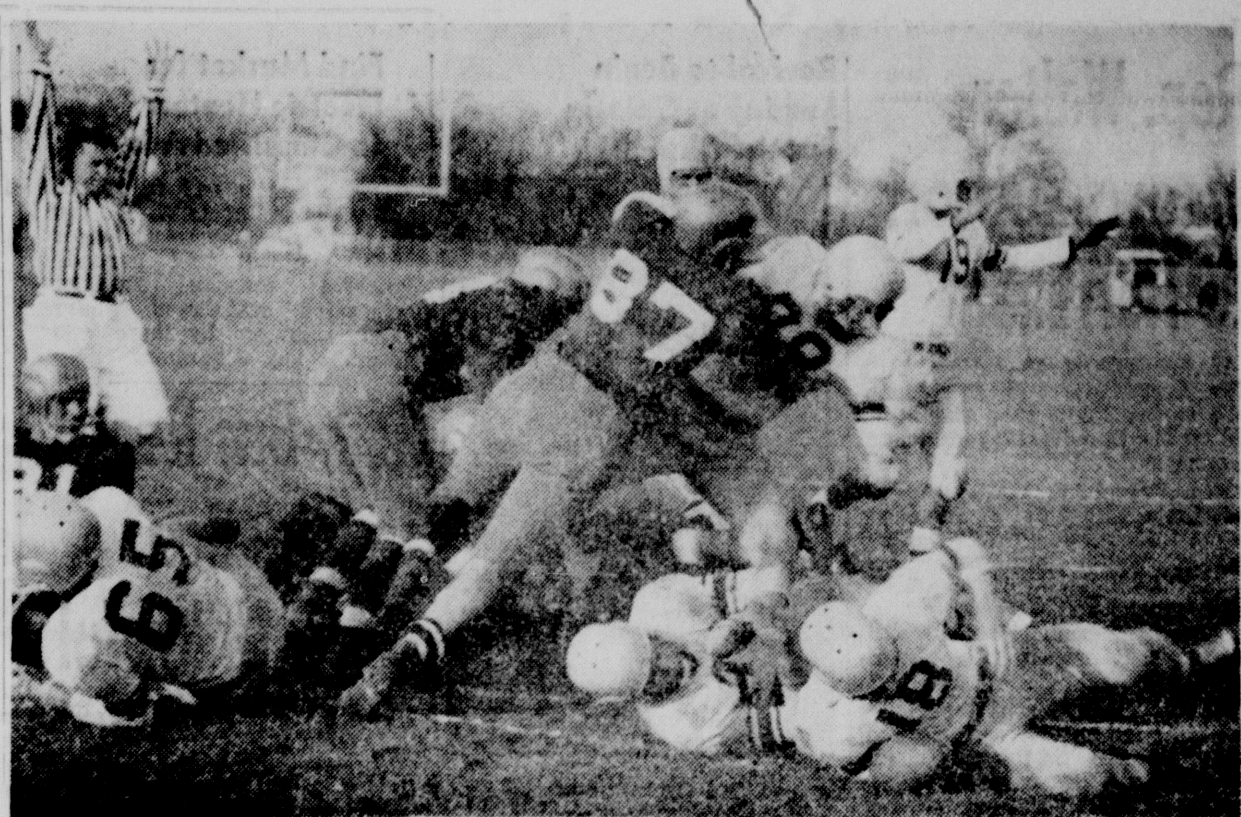

On the menu was turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, waldorf salad, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and milk. Really good and am told it is typical of meals served in the cafeteria. Also understand the charge is only 30 cents.

Guess that is what would be called "popular prices." And the food was good.

Am working on a schedule now so that I will be at the ETHS on Wednesday just before Thanksgiving in 1956. And at noon time, too.

ILLINI NOTES: Jim Minor, 20-year-old junior center from Chicago, has been named captain-elect of the 1956 University of Illinois football team. Minor was one of the current squad's "iron men" participating in 410 minutes of action during the nine games. Varsity letters have been awarded to 27 players, with two southern Illinois men in the list. Bobby Graeff, fullback from Murphysboro and Dean Renn, end from West Frankfort, received their "I". Numerals have been awarded to 52 members of the U. of I. freshman football team and southern Illinois' only representative was Gordon Feazel, Du Quoin.

Loses to Frankfort

West Frankfort's 12 to 0 Thanksgiving Day win over Benton put an end to the South Seven conference's 1955 football season and shoved Harrisburg up ahead of the Rangers in the final standings.

Harrisburg had been one notch below Benton in the standings until Frankfort rose to win its first and only loop victory of the season.

Herrin won the South Seven championship and Centralia with 4-2 finished ahead of the Bull Dogs.

Detroit Lions
Spoil Green Bay
Hopes, 24 to 10

DETROIT AP—The Detroit Lions, last-place defending champions in the Western Division, occupied the role of spoilers in the National Football League again today following their 24-10 win over the Green Bay Packers in their annual Thanksgiving Day battle here.

It was the second time within three weeks that the Lions eliminated a team from the title race which now is a run to the wire between the Chicago Bears and the Los Angeles Rams.

The Lions, who dropped their first six games, wrecked the Baltimore Colts' title hopes Nov. 5 by defeating them, 24-14.

The Lions and Packers rest Sunday while the Chicago Bears and Cardinals meet in an intra-city battle, Baltimore hosts San Francisco, the Cleveland Browns visit the New York Giants, the Rams play at Philadelphia and the Pittsburgh Steelers entertain the Washington Redskins.

Flyers Defeat
Belleville, 14-0,
For 42nd Straight

By United Press
East St. Louis remained unbeaten in 42 football games after a convincing 14-0 victory over Belleville, which had won all nine of its games this season.

The Thanksgiving day win gave East St. Louis its usual dominance of the old Southwestern Conference. The last time the Flyers were defeated was by Belleville in 1951, and their only tie in this streak was against St. Louis University High this year.

The Flyers scored both times in the first quarter, when all-state end Richie Brooks caught a wobbly pass from Jack Rice and Bobby Cook plunged from the one after Rice blocked a Belleville punt.

Peoria Central's Lions gained a share of a three-way tie for the Big 12 championship by banging out a 30-0 win over Peoria Manual. The Lions tied Decatur and Champaign for the conference crown.

Luther College
Defeats Western
In Corn Bowl, 24-20

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, reigned as Corn Bowl champion Friday after a 24-20 defeat of Western Illinois in the annual Thanksgiving Day game.

The loss was the first for Western Illinois in three Corn Bowl contests. Dick Rundle, clever Luther quarterback, was the key man in his team's win, scoring one touchdown, kicking three extra points and a 16-yard field goal.

He was selected as the game's most valuable player.

Don Lashmet scored twice, on a 30-yard dash and a 32-yard pass, as Western rallied in the final period. Western scored first in the first quarter when fullback Ron Little scored from the 7-yard line.

Southern's Salukis Score in Final Period to Tie Bradley Braves, 7-7

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A determined Southern Illinois university grid team drove 71 yards late in the fourth quarter to tie Bradley University Braves, 7-7, before 2,000 fans at Carbondale yesterday afternoon.

Quarterback Gerald Hart, West Frankfort, scored on a one-yard plunge after a series of running plays—highlighted by a 29-yard sprint by halfback Carver Shannon, Corinth, Miss.—had moved the ball downfield. Fullback Bill Spratt, Salem, kicked the tying point.

Southern controlled the game throughout the first half except for the closing seconds. So effectively did SIU throttle Bradley's attack that the Braves had a minus rushing and passing total and only one first down during the first 23 minutes of play. Late in the second quarter Southern drove 70 yards before being halted on the Braves' 12. From that point, Spratt attempted a field goal, but it was wide. Southern played the game without the services of its star right halfback, Jack Schneider. Glen Carbon, who was sidelined by a knee injury.

The Braves, who had nipped Washington university, 27-20, at St. Louis last week, ended the season with a 5-3-1 record. Southern finished play with a 4-4-2 overall record. All four wins, however, were against conference opponents, giving SIU a third-place finish in the I. I. A. C.

In rushing, Southern bested Bradley, 190-132. Bradley led in passing, completing 4 of 18 for 53 yards compared to SIU's 3 completions of 12 attempts for 33 yards. In total yardage Southern was ahead, 223-185.

Hurting Southern were four passes lost by interceptions. SIU led in first downs, 14-8.

Rep. Walter Throws Support To Harriman

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York Gov. Averell Harriman today gained a congressional supporter in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), who broke with Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1952 campaign over the McCarran - Walter Immigration Act, announced his support for Harriman. Walter said he expects to go to the Democratic National Convention next August as a "Harriman delegate."

Walter, chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, said Harriman "is the only candidate" for the Democratic nomination who "has true appreciation of the No. 1 problem confronting the nation today—the threat to our security posed by the Russians who are intent on world domination."

Walter broke with Stevenson in 1952 when the former Illinois governor criticized and called for liberalizing the immigration act which Walter sponsored with the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

In other political developments Democrats continued their sharp blasts at the administration's farm program and the defunct Dixon-Yates power contract.

Farm advisers to the Democratic National committee came out for farm price supports at not less than 90 per cent of parity. They accused the administration's flexible farm support policy of bringing farmers to the "verge of bankruptcy."

Selective Service Bombarded with Draft Inquiries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective Service headquarters, awaiting an executive decision on its proposed new draft regulations, said today it is being bombarded with questions about new deferments and exemptions.

Actually, no group would be added to the deferred or exempted list, but the proposed new regulations would make it more likely that fathers and older registrants would escape the draft.

Draft-eligible men between the ages of 18½ and 35 years would be put into six categories under the new regulations. Fathers and older registrants would be in the lower categories.

Purpose of the proposed new order of selection is to lower the average draft age, which now is about 23 years. Some military manpower experts would like to have it closer to 21.

Rail, Bus Racial Segregation Ruled Unlawful

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission ruled today that racial segregation of interstate railroad and bus passengers is unlawful.

The ICC held that segregation of Negro passengers subjects them to "undue and unreasonable prejudice and disadvantage" in violation of the Interstate Commerce Act.

"The disadvantage to a traveler who is assigned accommodations or facilities so designated as to imply his inherent inferiority solely because of his race must be regarded under present conditions as unreasonable," the ICC said.

The ICC's ruling was made in two cases, one brought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against a group of southern railroads. The other was brought by Sarah Keys, New York Negro beautician, against the Carolina Coach Co., Raleigh, N. C.

The commission ordered 12 railroads, a rail terminal company, and the bus line to stop segregation by next Jan. 10.

The decision was another in recent ones striking down racial barriers—the most notable of which was the Supreme Court's decision ending segregation in the public schools.

UN Removes
Algeria Question
From Agenda

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly without objection today struck off its agenda the question of Algeria and opened the way for France to end its two-month boycott of the world parliament.

The French walked out of the assembly on Sept. 30 when it decided to put the Algerian issue on its agenda for full debate.

In Paris, sources close to the government predicted that the French delegation would be told to return to the assembly now that the threat of debate on Algeria was ended.

A conference of the powerful Arab-Asian group today brought agreement on a formula to delete the item from the agenda for this session, leaving it open to be raised again in the future.

State police raided the El Patio Oct. 15 and seized gambling equipment. Edgar Terrell of Mounds City pleaded guilty to keeping a gaming device and was fined $100 and costs.

Terrell, William N. Thomas of Rock Island, and George Talbert of Cairo, were arrested in today's raid, police said.

Mrs. Vera Melton of Eldorado Has More Than 150 Pitchers in Collection

More than 15 years ago Mrs. Vera Melton, Eldorado, received as a Christmas gift from an old friend a pitcher with rather unusual designs and coloring. While admiring the pitcher, Mrs. Melton mentioned that she believed it would be interesting to collect pitchers and from that remark she now has a collection that numbers well over 150.

There are practically every size, color, design. The smallest isn't much larger than a red hot and the tallest is more than a foot high. There are some designed as persons, a couple of odd looking birds and a bull. One looks like a pumpkin, another like an ear of corn. One small, clear glass pitcher, has a penny inside and the mouth of the pitcher is much too small for the coin to come out.

Another, a souvenir of Silver Springs, Fla., is a hollowed out English walnut shell with a handle.

Six foreign countries — England, Belgium, Germany, Egypt, Mexico and Canada—and thirty-two of the states are represented. A glance at the pitchers shows there are souvenirs from Madison, Wis., the Illinois State Fair of 1941, Danville, Streator, Sparta, Springfield, and Eldorado among other communities of Illinois, Dayton, Ohio, Charleston, Mo., Hot Springs, Ark., My Old Kentucky Home, Bardstown, Ky., Nashville, Tenn., Estes Park, Colo., Laramie, Wyo., and many other places.

The oldest pitcher, at extreme left in the back of the above picture, was said to be almost 100 years old at the time it was given to Mrs. Melton.

Several years ago the collection grew rapidly and friends made it a point to bring a pitcher for the collection almost every time they made a trip. However, display room disappeared when tables, desks and what-nots became crowded and the word apparently got around that there was no more room for pitchers in the Melton household.

Just recently the pitchers were all checked over and they brought many happy memories of friends and their trips when the pitchers were purchased.

HTHS Art Department Provides Creative Instruction, Teaching of Appreciation

Miss Kathryn Rice, head of the Art department at HTHS, cites appreciation of art and learning of techniques as the major objectives for the high school art student.

The high school offers four years of full credit courses—enough for an art major acceptable at the University of Illinois. Each year is divided into creative and appreciation units, with talented students receiving instruction in techniques and the less talented benefitting from study of the history of art and artists.

During the first year students study sign writing, color, design perspective, clay modeling, linoleum block printing, and the philosophy and work of artists.

Second year students, in addition to studying the same things on a higher level, have charcoal work, and do landscapes and figure sketching. The appreciation unit is a study of the art of different countries, ancient and modern, with the emphasis on architecture and sculpture.

Commercial art is the subject for the creative unit in the third year class. Students design and construct book jackets, commercial containers, menu backs, bill board posters, travel folders, and catalog backs. The appreciation unit is a study of the different schools of modern art.

Fourth year students study American arts and crafts, and serve as trouble shooters for the art department. They often do decorations and posters for civic organizations. These students constructed the thermometer for the Salvation Army fund drive; made banners for the Rotary club; flags for World Community Day; Christmas decorations for the city government and the school; and illustrative material for Dr. L. I. Webb's lecture to the Dental Association of America. In addition they paint murals each year in the high school building, and enter various poster contests.

Equipment of the art department is good, says Miss Rice. Each student has a drawing table, and the department has an electric kiln, a potter's wheel, an air brush with compressor, a silk-screen printing machine, a printing press for linoleum blocks and a still life collection for painting. Davenport Furniture company furnishes linoleum for the blocks.

Miss Rice, who has an M. A. degree in history and political science, studied art at Indiana university, the Art Institute in Chicago, and John Herron school at Indianapolis.

Her summer vacations are spent in either schools and universities studying art techniques, or in travel abroad studying masterpieces or investigating modern schools of art. In the summer of 1953 Miss Rice took an extensive cruise of the Mediterranean area of Europe and Africa. Last summer she spent seven weeks in Europe studying and traveling.

Miss Rice came to HTHS in 1927 directly from college. At that time the high school offered no art courses, but in 1928 she organized the department and taught classes. A pioneer in the Illinois high school field trial, the department has gained steadily in size and recognition.

Dozens of Miss Rice's former students have gone on to lucrative careers in the field of art. Harold Hancock, a 1930 HTHS graduate, is a successful practicing artist in Greensburg, Ind., and a typical product of the local art program. Mr. Hancock is an architect, a designer of home interiors, and a portrait and landscape painter. He travels extensively through Florida

HTHS ART DEPARTMENT—Modeling clay, drawing with chalk and painting are among the various activities of the art department at the Harrisburg Township high school. and Europe painting and studying. Other former students have become high school and college art instructors, industrial and fashion designers, architects, and art executives with national chain stores and concerns.

Elvis Henson, principal of HTHS, expresses the popular regard for Miss Rice's efforts. "We feel that Miss Rice's twin objectives of stimulating creativity and art appreciation have been fully realized by hundreds of students."

Approve Plans for New Band Building

CHICAGO 48 — The University of Illinois board of trustees today approved plans for a new band building on the Urbana campus. The building and equipment will cost $870,000.

Construction will begin early in the spring and the university hopes the building will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1957.

The trustees approved the spending of $346,000 for alterations and additions to Altgeld Hall at Urbana, and $37,300 for alterations on the Chicago professional campus.

The board authorized home economics and agricultural home extension staff members not qualifying for university retirement to participate in federal group insurance.

Gov't Economists
Predict Record
Christmas Buying Spree

WASHINGTON 48 — Americans probably are starting on the biggest Christmas buying spree in history, government economists said today.

Last December, they broke all previous records and department store sales were 4 per cent higher than in December, 1953. Now there are even more people with jobs and they are making more and spending more. This is bound to have an effect on Christmas buying.

The North Dakota Experiment Station reported that about 75,000 bushels of Selkirk wheat were made available to North Dakota growers for planting in 1955.
